[Redacted]

Dear [Redacted]

I was pleased to receive your letter telling me that you and your family escaped safely from Vietnam and are now in [Redacted]. I hope that your future in the United States will be more peaceful than the tragic period of past years.

I have had my organization check with the refugee camps to try to find out if your father, [Redacted] was located at any of them so that I could give you the good news of his whereabouts. I remember him well and had great respect for his military, administrative and pacification activities in his various assignments in Vietnam.

Unfortunately, we have not been able to locate him at any of the camps. We will continue to watch for him.

I join you in hoping that he successfully escaped and will again be with you in the future.

Keep me advised of your future address so that if I get any information about your father, I will be able to pass it to you.

Please accept my best wishes for your future in this country.

Sincerely,

/s/ W. E. Colby
